2 Farmers Added to Ton Per Acre Club

Two Bulloch county farmers were today added to the list of those becoming charter members of the Ton Per Acre Peanut Club in Georgia.

W. A. Groover of Ivanhoe and Henry S. Blitch of West Side, are local farmers, being honored today at Tifton by the peanut industry, the extension service and experiment station.

The meeting started today at 10:30 with a tour of the Coastal Plain Experiment Station farm and a luncheon at 12 o'clock. The honor keys and certificates were awarded at the luncheon.

The corn growers in Georgia began such an organization several years ago, but the peanut growers are today perfecting their organization.

Mr. Groover has long been known as one of the outstanding peanut growers in this section of the state, averaging about a ton per acre every year. He started harvesting peanuts in 1919, when the first peanuts for harvest were planted in the state. His method of producing high yields is simple, he thinks. His formula: Put down lots of seed, fertilize well, keep clean, and harvest when peanuts are ready to dig. He had 46 acres last year and averaged about a ton per acre, but the demonstration plot on which the record was made averaged about 2,400 pounds per acre.

Mr. Groover, right off, gives two of his sons, Francis and Wilson, credit for the good yields in 1950. They had the peanut crop together. Mr. Groover asked that their names be included on the honored list at Tifton.

Mr. Blitch also has a high average yield on the crop as a whole, but the seven acres producing the 1950 record were peanuts he was working with the experiment station and some he knew the exact data on. The station was making a field test of some of their peanuts and wanted the seed certified. He grew about a ton per acre on the plot and procured some good seed for his own use in 1951.

ELLSSASSER, "The Paganini of the Organ," returns to Teachers College Auditorium Monday, February 5, 1951.

Mr. Groover started growing peanuts in 1919 and has continued growing them ever since, even when he was offered as low as one cent per pound for his crop. Mr. Groover, as do most of the peanut growers of his community, grows the large jumbo type peanut. His 1950 crop was the New Holland type of Virginia runner. He does plant some bunch peanuts at times and plans to use some large bunch peanuts in his 1951 crop.

Five acres, included in the demonstration in 1950, produced some 2,500 pounds per acre, but he actually grew more than 92,000 pounds of peanuts on 45 acres.

Mr. Groover gives his two sons, Francis and Wilson, a large part of the credit for last year's crop, since both assisted in its culture. Francis has been with him since last year and they have maintained about a ton-per-acre average through that period.

Henry S. Blitch was one of 31 peanut growers in the state who were also honored at Tifton for producing a ton or more of peanuts per acre in 1950. The seven acres Mr. Blitch had in his demonstration plot produced around 2,200 pounds of peanuts per acre. His entire crop averaged almost a ton per acre. Mr. Blitch was using a peanut which has not as yet been given a name by the experiment station. It will probably be named this year, if all field tests prove satisfactory.

The Blitch family was selected as a Master Farm Family for 1950. They were honored at the Rotary Club meeting on Monday last week and at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday of this week. Their other son, Jimmy, a student at the University of Georgia, does not appear in the picture. (Cut courtesy The Atlanta Journal-Constitution.)

Henry S. Blitch was one of 31 peanut growers in the state who were also honored at Tifton for producing a ton or more of peanuts per acre in 1950. The seven acres Mr. Blitch had in his demonstration plot produced around 2,200 pounds of peanuts per acre. His entire crop averaged almost a ton per acre. Mr. Blitch was using a peanut which has not as yet been given a name by the experiment station. It will probably be named this year, if all field tests prove satisfactory.

The Statesboro Seventh Master Farm Family shown here admiring a painting done by Mrs. Henry Blitch as a hobby. With her is honored by the Statesboro Extension Service. The Blitch family was selected as a Master Farm Family for 1950. They were honored at the Rotary Club meeting on Monday last week and at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday of this week. Their other son, Jimmy, a student at the University of Georgia, does not appear in the picture. (Cut courtesy The Atlanta Journal-Constitution.)

Mr. Groover started growing peanuts in 1919 and has continued growing them ever since, even when he was offered as low as one cent per pound for his crop. Mr. Groover, as do most of the peanut growers of his community, grows the large jumbo type peanut. His 1950 crop was the New Holland type of Virginia runner. He does plant some bunch peanuts at times and plans to use some large bunch peanuts in his 1951 crop.

Five acres, included in the demonstration in 1950, produced some 2,500 pounds per acre, but he actually grew more than 92,000 pounds of peanuts on 45 acres.

Mr. Groover gives his two sons, Francis and Wilson, a large part of the credit for last year's crop,

Say, "Yes, We'll Give Gladly"

THE GREAT need for whole blood and blood plasma is increasing faster than quotas can be fixed.

Bulloch county's Blood Program Committee got the word near the first of the year that it's quota for the January 24-25 visit of the bloodmobile was set at 250 pints.

Now comes the word that the need for live-saving blood and plasma is becoming more and more desperate.

And so it is that Bulloch county must rally around this great need and contribute 300 pints.

The usual needs for whole blood in our hospital here in Statesboro and the other hospitals in the Savannah region have been, and are, being met.

But the need for blood plasma has multiplied beyond imagination. The life-saving plasma, and other derivatives, must be made available to treat casualties in the forlorn combat areas and in other places where the use of whole blood is impractical. In addition, they serve as a war reserve stockpile of vital materials. Unlike whole blood, which must be used within 21 days of the time it is drawn, dried plasma is stable and, with proper care, can be stored and used for several years.

Bulloch county, under the direction of Ike Minkovitz, has responded wonderfully to past calls for blood donors. It is to the credit of the people of the communities that make up the counties, and to their leaders, that this is true.

Mr. Minkovitz, with understanding, believes that the community chairman and vice chairman who have been bearing the burden of the donor recruiting for the past year should be relieved. And rightly so. They have done a great good.

And so it is that a group of new chairman and vice chairman met at the Forest Heights Country Club last Friday night with the planning committee to draw up the campaign for the January 24-25 visit of the Bloodmobile.

In naming the new committee chairman and vice chairman, Mr. Minkovitz paid tribute to the retiring committees for their energies, time and interest.

Each committee has been assigned an area and a roster from which to work, and a quota of donors to be obtained for this visit. The Negro citizens have accepted the responsibility of providing a large portion of the quota.

Approximately five days before the visit of the Bloodmobile, a member of the local Red Cross chapter will contact each committee chairman or vice chairman as a reminder.

Nearly every citizen in Bulloch county has a relative, a friend, a loved-one, who has benefited directly from this blood program.

Newspapers tell of the life-giving blood plasma administered in combat areas in Korea. Veterans of World War II can tell you of scores of cases where it saved the life of a son of some mother and father—maybe a veteran who lives here in Bulloch county.

There can be no glossing over the importance of this matter of blood donation. You give it free. The veteran gives it free. Your neighbor gives it free. The stranger gives it free.

You get it free, when you have to have it. The veteran gets it free. Your neighbor gets it free. The stranger gets it free.

It's life-giving and life-saving. Maybe to give a pint of your blood is to save the life of someone who, perhaps, gave a pint to save your life.

When you are asked to be a donor on January 24 or 25, say, "Yes, I'll do it gladly, and with pride!"

They That Wait Upon The Lord...

By VIRGINIA RUSSELL

THE NEWSPAPER is full of it every day—communism, the war in Korea, the disagreeing Russians in the U. N., the President asking for billions for defense, whether or not to draft 18-year-olds, the Congress quarreling over the right course to pursue. And the men talk about the world, and their talk is full of it.

All of this endless hum, stir, and talk fairly makes a woman dizzy-headed because too long her deep thinking has included making out the week's menu, listing the necessary groceries, worrying about bills, and being suddenly and deeply concerned about the latest appearance of a character quip in one of the children.

She stands at the kitchen sink and wonders what it would be like to live in the woods, cooking over an open fire, etc., just in case she should be run out of her house by a conquering army.

She believes that she would be happy without the luxuries of her modern home. The thought of red bugs makes her itch all over. She keeps on thinking: Of course, she could be happy with out the conveniences she's become accustomed to—happiest in the night. Then she thinks of her oldest son in uniform. Then she goes back to the family without a home and thinks of one of the younger children getting sick. She could send for a doctor but what good could he do without penicillin or other necessary drugs to treat the child?

Then she knows that it is time to quit thinking or else change the channel of her thinking. She calculates, of course, that some of the intellectuals would probably say she was anesthetizing herself, but she knows better. Some cynics would say she's rational and other would say she's simple minded, but she knows better.

She knows that there's no use to try to work out tomorrow's problems, her best with today. She knows because she has faith that God still has a hand in reigning over her affairs, just as He had last year and the years before.

She knows, too, that His justice is perfect and if His children need to be punished that their spirits will be more beautiful for their sufferings.

So she turns to Isaiah 40 and reads and the last verses say, "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint."

She believes anew that she, along with millions of other women, can take the tomorrow with whatever changes are wrought because, thank God, she has her faith, and she'll go right on trying to make today the best day she can make it, leaving tomorrow in His hands.

And of course we have many good teachers here in Statesboro and Bulloch county. We're fortunate. But other sections of the state are critically in need of improvement. The Minimum Foundation Program is designed to meet these needs.

In 1948 the total basic Foundation Program was figured at $73,979,720. The total educational budget for that year was $96,067, 178.

On August 1, 1950, the total basic Foundation Program was figured at $82,752,380. The total educational budget rose to $110,819,051.

In 1947-1948 the total enrollment in Georgia schools was 738,427, with 22,481 teachers.

In 1949-1950 total enrollment jumped 28,266 to 766,683, with 24,049 teachers. For 1953-1954 the estimated enrollment will be 864,085, an increase of 97,402 in three years.

There is no way to estimate the future needs in building, equipment, etc. Right now the Minimum Foundation Program for Education is just a law passed in 1949. It has not been financed.

Our legislature is now in session. We must pay more taxes if we are to provide for this program for the future of our youth.

To us the provision for this program is the Number One problem for our General Assembly's present session.

We know our own representatives and our senator are for it. We are fortunate that our senator is chairman of the University System Committee in the Senate. He will have a great deal of influence.

Our people, our representatives, must come to know that it's better business to implement this great program than it is to let it die, with the resulting deterioration and final breakdown of our schools.

HAIRCUT 75c

SHAVE 50c

In "Dedrick Waters" barber shop

last week customers were rocked back by the news that the above prices soaped on the big mirrors behind the barber chairs.

Customers were remembering the days of "shave and a haircut, two bits." But they could not recall how much the haircut was, nor how much the shave was. But they just recollect the two-bit combination.

Bob Pound was there with his two young'uns. It cost him $2.25.

Dedrick asked if he should give one of the kids a tonic. "O. K.," allowed Bob, "but you'll have to hold him as security until I can raise the money. But I know that after half an hour you'll be glad to send him home with a cancellation of the obligation."

Dedrick was telling of a man who came in with seven young'uns

who had their hair cut. $6.00 it took. Next time he'll bring in a couple of dollars' worth of inflation with a capital I.

Slim Waller said the 75c haircut is the highest that Statesboro has ever experienced. It cost us 75c and Mr. Claxton didn't get but a nickel's worth of hair off our head. . . just a little trim over the ears and on the back of our neck. We bald-headed citizens should get together and promote a sliding scale for our head trimming.

The U. P. report tells of Edward Schurick, who asked for the annulment of his marriage because his wife, whose home is in Tusca-

He told the State Supreme Court that they were married November

3, 1943, while he was in military service and that after his discharge in 1946 he set up a home in Delmar, near Albany, N. Y. But

The court granted the annul-

WE'VE BEEN HAD!

We had been told by all those in the know that the big freeze had been a boon to farmers. Of course, it killed all the small grain, the blue lupine, the truck, the veg-

But the cryers of despair held out the bright hope that the boll-weevils, the mosquitoes, the weeds

There's consolation in seeing old rounds you. We could meet every once in a while over tea and cookies and weep and gnash our teeth —and maybe even plan strategy to fight the crab grass, the red spider, the black root, the black spot.

And maybe we could even have our own flower show. Put on dis-

THE BAND STAND

By ANN EVANS

The members of the band—all 56 of us—are in a dither, getting ready for our first mid-winter concert next Thursday.

It's going to be fun playing for the citizens of Statesboro in this concert. We have several novelty numbers which are honys. There will be one called "Cheerfuls," which is based on the poem: "Under the spreading chestnut tree The village smitty sander; The smitty a mighty man is he, With large and sinewy hands; And the muscles of his brawny arms Are strong as iron bands." Remember that poem? "The Village Blacksmith," by Longfellow. Dr. Fielding Russell, father of trombonist William Russell, will be the narrator for the novelty.

Many of us will get a chance to play solo passages in several of the numbers. It makes us feel just like we are playing "solo" just like Don Flinders on the marimba, and Carvey Donaldson on the baritone horn.

We are going to charge a small admission for this concert. It is the first time that we have done that. The members of the band all have tickets. You can get them from any one of us. (See front page story for names of band members.)

Our band director, Mr. McLeod, has been selected as a judge for the Sixth District Music Festival, to be held in Milledgeville, Eatonton, Dublin and other cities will participate. Don't forget—Mid-Winter Concert—High School auditorium. Thursday evening, January 25! Get your ticket now.

T.C. Frosh Team Loses Key Players

Loss of key players to the armed services has resulted in disbandment of the freshman basketball team at Georgia Teachers College, Athletic Director J. B. Seacore Jr. disclosed today.

"Though the game scheduled here with Georgia Southwestern College on Friday will be played, all other freshman contests, Seacore said, have been canceled.

Enlistments in the Air Force and Navy, designed to "beat the Army draft," reached a decisive stage yesterday when Billy Oswald, star center of Jacksonville, Fla., and Bob Belton, regular forward of Duxis, Fla., left to join the Navy.

The college has only 12 players and needs all to complete its varsity schedule. Seacore declared. He said that the varsity, winner of 11 games and loser only once, has had to give up two valuable reserves since Christmas and was likely to finish without further departures.

Oswald and Belton were offered draft deferments but under the present Selective Service law could have entered only the Army. Oswald was thought to have unusual possibilities for development. He shot 22 points in pacing a significant 73-65 victory over Jacksonville Junior College in Jacksonville Monday.

This was the first year that the college had had a freshman team. It was harassed even before the season opened by the mobilization of the National Guard here and resultant demands on draft boards, which took away prospective talent.

The varsity will return to action on Thursday night.

Forestry News

By J. W. ROBERTS, Ranger

Bulloch county goes into 1951 with something new in the way of reminders about keeping fire away from our valuable woodlands. The "something new" factors are the Keep Georgia Green signs.

These signs were erected in December on the Port and Pembroke roads. By this time, nearly all Bulloch county citizens have seen the signs, but not all realize the importance of the message they carry.

Bulloch county has 284,083 acres of woodlands. Of this area only 250 acres already have been destroyed by fire in the current forest fire season, which opened last fall.

Destruction of those woodlands means loss not only to the men who own them but for each individual citizen of Bulloch county as well. The loss to you non-landowners comes in the form of badly eroded lands and in the weakening of the general agricultural economy of our community. Washed out and badly gullied land, in other words, won't produce good crops and when Bulloch county can't produce good crops, the fire Register.

Promptness to Aid State's Employers
"Promptness in the part of Georgia employers, will save them money," Labor Commissioner Ben T. Huiet said today, when he urged the state's employers to make their payroll reports and remittances due for all quarters of 1950 by midnight, January 31, 1951.
All employers will receive full credit of 2.7 percent against the 3 percent Federal Excise Tax on the taxable payrolls of the year 1950, provided payments are made to the Employment Security Agency on or before January 31, 1951.
The agency will certify to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue the amount of payroll taxes paid by each Georgia employer.
"This insures all employers to receive full federal credit as well as state credit," Mr. Huiet said.
Credit, of course, cannot be certified for unpaid amounts," he added.
Employers who have not already sent in their reports and payments should do so immediately for their own benefit.
"Promptness in the payment of payroll taxes (on or before January 31, 1951), gives Georgia employers an opportunity to save taxes—an opportunity not to be overlooked, the Commissioner said.

Grand Jury Urges Enforcing Law; Judge Renfro Hits Slots, Liquor
Even A Dime Will Help!

Those who have experienced it can give you the word. Poliomyelitis, or infantile paralysis, or "polio", as we generally refer to it, is an expensive business.
We don't mean just the crippling effects to the human body.

In addition to that there is the tremendous financial burden that the disease brings with it. Not many families, even those in high income brackets, can afford the accompanying expenses of a serious case of polio.
Four out of five families must seek outside help when polio strikes, according to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. This help is never refused. And because polio is on the increase everywhere, the Foundation treasury and that of the Georgia chapter are emptying fast.

Now comes an opportunity to help those who cannot help themselves, and—who knows you may need that help yourself.
We are in the midst of the March of Dimes drive. Miss Sally Serson has been named chairman of the Bulloch County set-up. Contributions may be sent to her at Radio Station WWSN, where she is working.
In her statement this week she said: "Whether some Bulloch County children will die or be crippled for life because their families cannot pay for the long and expensive treatment involved depends upon the willingness of Bulloch Countians to give generously to the March of Dimes Campaign."

Even a dime will help. But if your child were stricken would you consider that enough?
Got An Extra Dime? . . . Put It In Parking Meter For March of Dimes
Got a dime? Put it in a parking meter and know that you are making it possible to help some child walk again—some child stricken by polio . . . know that you are adding strength to the nation's March of Dimes.

Mayor Gilbert Cone has made this easy method of contributing to the March of Dimes available during all this week.
A dime will not register on the parking meter. You'll get no time to park, but you'll get a feeling of satisfaction in helping. So when you park your car, just put all the dimes in your pocket in the meter. At the end of the week all the dimes collected from the meter will be turned over to the March of Dimes chairman, Miss Sally Serson.

Mayor Cone has also declared tomorrow, Friday, January 26, as "Bean Day."
"We are asking the people to eat beans on that day and take the money they would have spent on meat and send it to Miss Serson for the March of Dimes," he emphasized.

In making his statement he added: "Won't you, as citizens of Statesboro, dig down deep and help in this most worthy cause? Help fight infantile paralysis with your dimes and dollars. Help a child to walk again. Join the March of Dimes."

Contributions to the March of Dimes may be sent to Miss Serson in care of Radio Station WWSN. Send yours today!

Capsule Editorial
We commend our Senator Everett Williams.
Mr. Williams was one of the 16 senators who, despite heavy pressures, voted against the proposed amendment that would require statewide primaries under the county unit system as a qualification before a candidate's name can be placed on the general election ballot.

The proposed amendment passed in the Senate 36 to 16.
Senator Williams displayed the stuff of which we like to know our representatives are made. His independence is commendable and we believe his friends here in the 49th Senatorial District will have a new respect for him. We believe that he has gained additional supporters by his action.

We hope our representatives in the House, Algie Trappnell and Charles A. Collier, vice president of the company, announced this week that an additional $1,000 will be added to last year's prize money, bringing the total to be awarded to towns making the most civic progress during the contest period to $8,500.

In addition to choosing three prize winners in three population groups, the contest will include a "sweepstakes" classification for all towns that have won first prize in this and the past three competitions.
The contest is open to all towns in the company's service area with less than 20,000 population, except the 1950 first prize winners. There will be three population groups. One will be composed of towns with less than 500 population, another with 500 to 2,000 population, and a third with 2,000 to 20,000 population.

Winners of the sweepstakes award include Cleveland, Odessa, Canulla, Hopeful, Franklin, Gainesville, Dawson, and the three top winners in the 1951 contest.
